How do we fix things after an incident?

After an incident is reported we deal with it in a way that is quick and treats everyone fairly and equally

We will work with you and other people involved to Look into the details of the incident

Understand what happened

Decide how bad the incident was

We also listen and talk to you and your family or advocate about what happened and how to fix it, and your ideas about any changes that would help in the future

	What information will we need? When we look into the details of an incident we need to write down what happened and what we did to help This is called keeping records Keeping Records To keep good records we will ask you and others questions about the incident We might ask questions like: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• What happened?</li> <li>• What time did it happen?</li> <li>• Where did it happen?</li> <li>• Who was involved?</li> </ul> If you are uncomfortable sharing information with us at any time, please let us know

	We may make changes to correct what happened We may <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• change how we do things</li> <li>• change our policies and procedures</li> <li>• train our staff</li> </ul>

	Some incidents are more serious than others Less serious incidents will be fixed by us More serious incidents might take longer to fix and we might need to involve other organisations
